POLICE REMEMBRANCE DAY 2007
AND ROLL OF HONOUR 1886-2007

THE ROYAL NEW ZEALAND POLICE COLLEGE
28 SEPTEMBER 2007
The story behind the Police Remembrance Day Pin

The Police Remembrance Day Pin was developed by New Zealand Police and the Police Association, who have been working together to raise the profile of Police Remembrance Day in the hearts and minds of police members and the general public nationwide.

Now lost to us, the Huia bird’s tail plumage is something rare and special. To wear it is considered by Māori to be a great honour. By incorporating the Police chevron into the Huia tail feather, the design of the pin symbolises the honouring of someone special, now lost to the Police.

Next year, police members throughout New Zealand will be able to take part in Police Remembrance Day by wearing the pin to honour the memory of those police officers slain while carrying out their police duty.

Any donations towards the pin will go to the Police Families Charitable Trust for the families of New Zealand police officers who have been slain while carrying out their police duties.

Huia e! Huia tangata kotahi. He tōtara kua hinga.
The feather of the huia, for someone special. One dearly departed.

Welcome
Superintendent Russell Gibson, National Manager: Training and Professional Development

Kia ora, Talofa lava, Kia orana, Malo e lelei, Ni sa bula, Gudpela morning tru olgeta, Fakaalofa lahi atu and Pacific greetings to you all.

I would like to extend a very, very warm welcome from the staff and trainees of The Royal New Zealand Police College to you all here today.

I would like to acknowledge the High Commissioners and Consulate staff from Australia and the South Pacific, along with Commissioner Howard Broad, Deputy Commissioners Provost and Pope, and fellow members of the Police Executive. I also wish to acknowledge our guest speaker today, Father John Walls, the Coordinating Chaplain for the New Zealand Police.

Police Remembrance Day is commemorated throughout Australasia and the South Pacific. We come together to acknowledge and honour the 26 New Zealand police and traffic officers who fell in the line of duty between 1886 and today, and those colleagues from Australia, Papua New Guinea and the Solomon Islands who lost their lives while on duty in the past year. Today’s commemoration also provides the opportunity to acknowledge and honour New Zealand police men and police women, serving and retired, sworn and non-sworn, who have passed away during the past 12 months.

This year, in an effort to provide a tangible symbol of Police Remembrance Day, we have worked with the Police Association to develop a lapel pin. This pin takes the form of a feather from the Huia bird. It incorporates the Police chevron, but has a small slit in it signifying loss. Our hope is that in the future, police staff will wear this pin at Police Remembrance Day celebrations as a symbol, similar to the Anzac Day poppy.

The New Zealand Police continues to grow, in terms of numbers, and also in terms of our reputation. We provide assistance as part of our commitment to the wider global police family. As we gather here today, we have members serving in such locations as the United Kingdom, the United States of America, China, Indonesia, Timor Leste, the Solomon Islands, Afghanistan and the Pacific. Our hearts and prayers are with those members, and their families, for their safe return to New Zealand.

While this day is about remembering former police colleagues, the support and encouragement that comes from police families cannot be underestimated. I therefore take this opportunity to recognise the families of police officers and to thank you for allowing your loved ones to do their job.

Your presence here today signifies your respect and remembrance for all those people who have died having contributed to the New Zealand Police. We offer our support to those of you who grieve. As an extended police family, I thank you all for coming today to share in this special Police Remembrance Day Service.
Introduction to the Song of Welcome
Padre David R Dell

Something we have in common today is our remembrance of loved ones who have served in the New Zealand Police. No matter when or where they served, no matter their rank or position, they were a part of us - and they are still a part of us in the Police. You need to know that, through them, you are a part of us as well. So, today, you are a part of this place - this place, in a sense, is your home - and each one of you is very welcome.

Song

Welcome Home
Take Note Singers
Written by Dave Dobbyn

Tonight I am feeling for you under the state of a strange land.
You have sacrificed much to be here, there for the graces I offer my hand.
   Welcome home: from the bottom of my heart.

And out here on the edge, the Empire is fading by the day;
and the world is so weary and worn, maybe we’ll find a new way.
   Welcome home: you see I’ve made a space for you now.
   Welcome home: from the bottom of our heart.
   Welcome home: from the bottom of our heart.

   Keep it comin’ now, keep it comin’ now.
   You’ll find most of us here with our hearts wide open.
   Keep it comin’ now, keep it comin’ now,
   keep it comin’ now, keep it comin’ now.

There’s a woman with her hands tremblin’; haere mai.
And she sings with a mountain’s mem’ry; haere mai.
There’s a cloud the full length of these isles, just playing chase with the sun.
And it’s black and it’s white and it’s wild! All the colours are one!
   Welcome home: you see I’ve made a space for you now.
   Welcome home: from the bottom of our heart,
   from the bottom of our heart.
A Tribute

To the serving and retired police members who have died during the past year

Padre David R Dell

As we share together in today’s Police Remembrance Day Service, we do so as part of the wider community of police throughout New Zealand, Australia and the South Pacific, as we remember before God those who have died during the past 12 months.

We share with our colleagues and friends in Australia and the South Pacific a sense of common loss. While some died in the line of duty, others were serving members and retired police staff.

Today, we are very privileged to have here with us the families of some of those who have died - and we offer a special welcome to you. Other family members and friends who cannot be with us today, we remember in prayer.

May this Police Remembrance Day Service, and the spirit of love, faith and compassion that binds us together, bring comfort and hope to everyone.

May our loneliness be eased, our hurt healed and our hope rekindled, as we remember that death is not the end but rather the completion of our life here on earth.

May the God of peace and hope guide each breath and every step as we continue our journey of life and faith.

Hymn

Amazing Grace
Words – John Newton (1725-1807)

(Solo) Amazing grace! how sweet the sound that saved a wretch like me;
I once was lost, but now I’m found, was blind, but now I see.

‘Twas grace that taught my heart to fear, and grace my fears relieved;
how precious did that grace appear, the hour I first believed.

Through many dangers, trials and snares I have already come;
‘tis grace that brought me safe thus far, and grace will lead me home.

When we’ve been there ten thousand years, bright shining as the sun, we’ve no less days to sing God’s praise than when we first begun.

Amazing grace! how sweet the sound that saved a wretch like me;
I once was lost, but now I’m found, was blind, but now I see.

Remind us of your promise to be with us always, and make us ever grateful for those we remember today, as colleagues from the past and present.

We thank you for the men and women who have given their all to maintain law and order in New Zealand, Australia and the region of the South Pacific, as they have helped keep our communities safe.

May God rest their souls.

In the name of Jesus Christ we pray.

New Zealand - Kainga Tuturu
Take Note Singers and the RNZPC Kapa Haka Group
Words by Simon Morris. Music by Sir Peter Blake

The city streets beneath your feet can make you tough.
I’d fought for fame, but when it came too much was never enough.
But in my mind once in a while I’d find a place to be;
where air is pure and water’s fresh, and people are your family.
It took some time to figure out I’d gone off the track;
but somewhere in a dream I heard a voice calling me back.

To New Zealand, kainga tuturu;
it’s the part of me that no-one else can own.
New Zealand, deep down in my heart;
it can call to me just like a childhood song - that’s where I belong.

You’ve got to go away from home to find out what home means;
those tinsel towns the world around were really not a part of me.
I made some friends, but in the end they didn’t sing my song;
I felt the hand of my own land, the land that made me strong.
Around the world I looked for it but I don’t know why;
it was here all along, it makes you know what money can’t buy.

New Zealand, kainga tuturu;
it’s the part of me that no-one else can own.
New Zealand, deep down in my heart;
it can call to me just like a childhood song.

Ko Aotearoa, taku kainga tuturu,
tu hikitia te iwi, hoki mai ra.
Ko Aotearoa, taku kainga tuturu,
hoki mai ra, hoki mai ra.

New Zealand, kainga tuturu;
it’s the part of me that no-one else can own.
New Zealand, first place in the sun;
New Zealand, it’s my country, it’s my home.

How Great Thou Art / Whakaaria Mai

Words and music by Stuart Hine © 1941, © Renewed 1981 Stuart Hine, Mana Music Inc

O Lord my God! When I in awesome wonder consider all the works thy hand has made. I see the stars, I hear the mighty thunder, thy power throughout the universe displayed.

Then sings my soul, my Saviour God, to thee. How great thou art! How great thou art! Then sings my soul, my Saviour God, to thee. How great thou art! How great thou art!

When Christ shall come with shout of acclamation and take me home, what joy shall fill my heart! Then I shall bow in humble adoration and there proclaim, my God, how great thou art!

Then sings my soul, my Saviour God, to thee. How great thou art! How great thou art! Then sings my soul, my Saviour God, to thee. How great thou art! How great thou art!

Whakaaria mai, to ripeka ki au; tiaho mai, ra roto i te po. Hei konei au, titiro atu ai; ora mate, hei au koe noho ai.

Whakaaria mai, to ripeka ki au; tiaho mai, ra roto i te po. Hei konei au, titiro atu ai; ora mate, hei au koe noho ai. Ora mate, hei au koe noho ai. Amine
